NOTES	THE CAUSES OF ACNE Acne Vulgaris is caused by oil glands at that base of hair follicles and affects mostly teenagers. During puberty the sebaceous oil glands come to life and hormones become unbalanced. The stress caused by the breakouts can intensify the problem. Acne Cosmetica is caused by the clogging of pores usually due to the use of low-grade and sub-standard ingredients. Adult Acne is often caused by stress. The Adrenal gland that produces hormones to help us cope with stress also produces androgens, male hormones, which increases the size and secretion of the sebaceous glands in both men and women. Acne is not usually dangerous, but medical attention should be sought if chronic Acne occurs.
